I guess it's not vintage enough to be featured on the site..... It's still a Kansas product though. I scored one cheap enough at the auction /w/ 2x15 cab, and then proceeded to fix it.

This thing is pretty cool... and I think it sounds better in some respects than my 200's do.

Any idea what speakers are in that cabinet? It's the matched one. 2-15-B I would guess CTS based on the history, but this was early 80's... when Eminence was everyone's OEM...

A CTS driver would have its manufacturer code clearly stamped on its mounting lip or magnet . By the time that amp was made I would think that it would however be a Eminence made driver and may be stamped as KEI on its magnet.

I'm well versed at Speaker ID.... but I'm too lazy to want to remove the back. Lol.
