What a fine group of collectors. I'm only sorry I didn't get involved in this earlier. I hope to send some pictures of this beast as soon as I get the handles and light and lense replaced and cleaned up a little. It's been in storage for 30 odd years. Which brings up yet another question.

While in storage my Kustom was protected by a homemade cover. Due to this the Cabinet picked up a reddish stain along the bottom. It's the Silver/White Naugahyde. Is there any way to lighten or bleach this without doing any damage?

Siggy

I'd try Novus cleaners first.
