Hi all.

The pilot lamp on my amp does not work any longer. The schematics say it's a DSI Pilot Lamp 1829. Didn't find anything on the internet for it.

I took the entire housing out of the amp, I looks like it does not come apart. Before I try to do this with pliers, can someone confirm that it does not come apart?

Ha... Nevermind. Figured it out. Realized that there is a cap that does unscrew and I wasted my time taking the entire unit out.

I see that I just need to find a replacement bulb.

Mouser electronics has the bulb you need... it is an 1829 I got some with some Ge335's for the metalface Kustoms..

Good luck

Craig

Thanks Kustommoholic...

Just got back from Napa Auto, they ordered me one. Will have it tomorrow.
