

---

Subject: Box of hardware

Posted by Anonymous on Mon, 10 Mar 2003 22:41:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I live in Chanute and have been sorting out some of my garage sale/auction boxes. I find that I have an assortment of old Kustom factory hardware i.e. little silver concave washers used on amp. backs, large and small silver woodscrews, switches from front knobs, front knobs, fuse holders, hexagonal 1 1/2" and 2" supports, plus a small assortment of electrical stuff I can't readily identify. 1 stackpole box of 5,000 resistors? marked from Kustom. I don't have any square power switches (none that I have found) which I can see by reading past posts, people seek. Is any of this other stuff worth anything, or can it all be purchased elsewhere today. Thanks for any help. I hate to put junk on eBay- thinking it might be treasure.

---

---

Subject: Re: Box of hardware

Posted by KustomBlues on Tue, 11 Mar 2003 17:20:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Take inventory as best you can and post it on the classifieds here on the page. People do need this stuff!

---