OK guys - it's officially Thanksgiving - Have a great one. I should have a few hours before the feasting begins to get back to my latest Kustom project. A 1966 2x15 cab in black. The T&R is not horrible, but not great either, so I'm going to recover it in Gold sparkle to match a gold sparkle K200B-1 head that I already have. I'm also replacing the handles since it has some goofy no where near originals on it. Grill cloth is near perfect, just needs a good cleaning. Wheels are good and those metal mounting plates are good too. Just need a number of screws replaced. One of my favorite things is trying to keep from getting the sticky tar sealant all over me. What a mess. It has some Italian made Sica speakers model Z008291. And of course, found the obligatory "foreign object" inside - one baby sock. Go figure. :)

Thanks for the Thanksgiving day wishes and the same goes back to you and your family and to all who have come here to this site and to naturally the owner of this great site !

Oren when I am faced with that black sticky mess I just use Blue painters tape to lay over it while I am working.

With all that we all have been going thru with deaths from Covid I would like to request that all of you that are still here please respond back to this with a simple reply of I am here .

If you have had Covid and got over it you can mention that also if you care too.

I will lead off here with mentioning that I had it at near the very end of 2019 when it was not in fashion yet so to speak!

Once again I hope all of you are well!

Thanks for the blue tape idea. In the past I've just taken degreaser type stuff and cleaned it all off, but now an alternative.

So sorry to hear that you had Covid, but very glad to hear that you have left it behind. Keep steady the course my friend. :)

Thanks, and I am glad I had it as it was not much worse then any other Flue I have ever had + now I don't fear it should I get it again.

Also when the vaccine becomes available I refuse to take it since all Vaccines screw with your DNA, so let that sink in awhile!
