I would like to locate anyone who sells covers that are close replicas to the Kustom extra heavy-duty rhinohyde covers originally available in the 60's/70's. Need something for a K200B head. Anyone selling an original cover in decent/usable condition contact me at EssexMusic_at_hotmail_dot_com.

Go to custom amp covers,inc. They have one for you or will make one. They are excellent.

Thanks. I've ordered a cover from them before for a Fender Bassman VT cabinet. Very well made covers, great communication. However, I don't think they offer the material similar to the original 60's extra heavy-duty rhinohyde (my descriptive name, not a trademark name) covers Kustom originally offered. Does anyone know the original manufacturer or who may have acquired the business? Did Kustom make them in-house?
