

---

Subject: Re: Repair

Posted by steven on Mon, 06 Mar 2023 11:48:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

So the question is now which transducer or its wiring is open.

You may just have one off the very small wires the go from the transducer to the rca jack that have broken off at the jack.

Look very close for this because many times when they brake off they do not move far enough away for them too look like they are disconnected..

These can easily be soldered back on and then with a dab of bath tub caulk be reinforced so that vibration will not undue them ever again.

Please report back on what you find.

---