I STILL have a Kustom 400 Stereo/Mono - Haven't tried to sell it hard but now its taking valuable space - this is a re listing from 1.5 years ago.

I would rather sell it locally but no-one(including me) knows what to do with this beast.

It has the harmonic clipper and volume boost.

I have never had enough cabs to fully test this but it all seems to work, although the volume boost doesn't seem to boost a whole lot.

The Tuck and Roll is decent, has both handles, allot of the knobs are missing the silver center

I am at work and don't have photos handy, would be willing to send to any interested parties.

The face plate has a small crack in it, so it must have been dropped at some point I assume.

it is massive and heavy, I think shipping is going to be $75-$100

If someone wants to pick it up I can flex on the price. I am in Portland Oregon.

Please email as I don't check this board very often.

Thanks for reading.

Just trying to give this a bump instead of re-listing
