I have a Kustom 200 bass head and a d140 cab and a CTS cab. Now I am contemplating putting some Carvin PS15's in at least one of the cabs. The D140 has two 15" JB Lansings subs. The CTS has only one sub I'm assuming Jb Lansing, I haven't taken a peek yet.(the previous owner evidently took out the other sub.) Now if by chance I were to replace the speakers in the two cabs with four new 8ohm speakers I would be running it at 2 ohms. I would like your guys opinion on whether or not you think the amp can handle a 2 ohm. I'm just curious. Please any info would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks!
