I'm new to the boards here. Wish I'd known about it before. Looks like a great place.

The wife says that I have way too much stuff. Of course I don't agree but it's funny how she holds all the cards.

Well in an attempt to appease the "boss", I'm listing a few of my valued toys for sale.

I've got two black Tuck & Roll 212 cabs with CTS Bass speakers in them. They're both in very good shape. They're the older kind that are deeper on the bottom than on the top. I've also got a silver sparkle four channel K200B PA head from about 1970. The T & R has rips on both sides in toward the rear and there are a couple of cigarette burns on the top. It sounds good though. It handles guitar and bass real well too. Everything works, including the reverb.

All reasonable offers considered.

Email me for pics.

If you're willing to pay

I couldn't begin to guess what shipping for these items would be but if you're willing to pay for the shipping, I'll get them to you.

Check out Ebay for a K100 head. Ad says it powers up but no sound. It's going at $45.

I saw it this morning and unfortunately, I just bought a blue head a couple of weeks ago. Besides, there was a red 2x12 cabinet on ebay recently and I forgot about it and didn't bid. Oops. I will watch it.

P.S. $45 will never take it. More like $245.

I don't think it will go that high considering that the owner can't get any sound out of it. It's a crapshoot as to what might be wrong with it. Could be something simple or it could be a major problem. Most people don't want to take that chance since they can't return it.

If I couldn't fix it, it ain't broke. But then a quick exchange of another chassis into the red box and I have good one. You need lots of spare parts. That's why I'm always broke.
